

The “Choose This Day” series of Bible studies has a rich history. Pastor Daniel Mesa had been asked to study the book of Revelation verse by verse and chapter by chapter with a congregation in Central California. In planning to present the series of studies, Mesa knew that one verse would give him trouble; Revelation 3:14.

Knowing there was a potential for someone to ask him about that verse, Mesa studied diligently with an intent to be able to thoroughly explain it. That exploration led Mesa into an in-depth study about the relationship between God the Father and His Son. While going through the book of Revelation, Mesa came to sure conclusions about God and His truths found in His Word.

This series entitled “Choose This Day” is some of the fruits of that study. After putting together Scriptures to solidify these foundational truths, a friend named Debbie Purviance organized these studies into the fill-in-the-blank format that you find within the pages of this book. Our prayer is that you will be blessed and at the same time challenged to study more deeply in the Word for yourself.
